FYI - I checked with Jim about current status and he agreed we seem to be done with this morning's back-and-forth, but he still asked about seeing the latest version, so Miranda just sent it to me and both Jims.

Hi everyone - here is a copy of the draft decision rationale. I plan to sit down with it in the next hour or so to review for typos, and make sure there are no outstanding inconsistencies. FYI for Jim C., this should still be the same version I shared with you yesterday. This will likely look very similar to the final version, which we will share with the state following our decision letter.

Thanks,

Miranda
